This article has been retracted at the request of the Publisher’s representative. The article [1] has been proven to be a duplicate of the publication [2].

The manuscript [2] was published in the journal The AnaChronisT in the year 2004 while in International Letters of Social and Humanistic Sciences in 2015 [1]. Thus, the article was subjected to retraction to eliminate the redundant publication and discouraging the efforts on duplicate publication malpractice.

The editors would like to apologize to the Journal’s readers for the late case detection. We tend to publish original scientific manuscripts only.

We sincerely appreciate the efforts of anyone who brings such matters to our attention. The author of [1] have been informed about the decision to retract the article [1] and agreed to the retraction. Thus, the paper has been declared retracted and marked accordingly.
